2009 COMMITTEE

Hi Drivers,

Sorry for the delay in getting this to the website but I haven't tried writing anything like this before, so you'll have to bear with me. Since the last newsletter we have had the conclusion of the summer Series, the final round saw fewer entries than previous rounds but this was probably down to the cooler weather. Congratulations to all the series trophy winners!

We have also had the first two winter meets, first November if you weren't there you don't know how lucky you were. The wet weather made for some interesting racing. I may be wrong but I think less than 50% of the large scale cars that attended actually took to the track at any time through the day such was the weather.

Then there was the December club day again the weather dictated some fun racing, the first 200mm race was more like a drifting competition due to the heavy frost which never properly cleared all day, driving styles varied greatly in all classes from the safely does it to the sideways for 75% of every lap amazingly the end results were pretty even and as you will see from the results the usual suspects didn't have it all their own way.

I am also waiting for any further details on the new electric class that was proposed at the A.G.M. (see details elsewhere) but I for one am hoping that something comes of it because it seems an ideal starter class for new members to get involved in competitive R.C. Racing without the costs of a (full blown) set up, and we all know what that can be whatever class you run, hopefully some new faces will come and enjoy it so much they could possibly swell the ranks of the unlimited classes. As we are I have an old tamiya tt01 that is hopefully going to see some use/abuse at the hands of my better half should the series take off.. Most of us must have something suitable in the loft or back of the garage that could be pressed into action, you never know it could turn out to be a lot less intense evening/day racing, more for the fun of it. Let me know your thoughts.

Cheers Mark.
